Cementir Holding N.V.: Clarification regarding information disseminated by an artificial intelligence-based analytics platform

Amsterdam, 11 September 2026 – Cementir Holding N.V. ("Cementir" or the "Company") announces that, following the necessary verifications, certain information relating to its 2026 guidance reported by Public Technologies (PUBT), an artificial intelligence-based analytics platform, is inaccurate.

Such guidance includes the assumptions and limitations already disclosed by the Company in its public filings and official communications.

The Company invites investors and other stakeholders to rely exclusively on information disclosed through its official communication channels, and on documents published on the Company's website and through the authorised dissemination systems.

Cementir assumes no responsibility for analyses, interpretations or reconstructions carried out by third parties using automated tools or artificial intelligence applications that do not faithfully reflect the information officially disclosed by the Company.
